Album 3. Frank A. Bliley's College Years - Album 1

Scanned: February 2015

Introduction

My grandfather, Frank Anderson Bliley (1865–1946), two schools after he graduated from secondary school at the age of 16 in 1881. He then entered Edinboro Normal School (College) in 1881 and the next year transferred to North-Western Normal School where he studied "commercial science", seeking what is now known as an associate business degree. He then returned to Edinboro to complete his studies to become a teacher and graduated in 1886 at the age of 20.

This album seems to reflect his social life at college with lots of photo of men and women from those years. He noted on several photos the death dates of the individual. An obituary for Jennie Akins, was found elsewhere; she may have been a love interest measured by the notation on her photo, the presence of an obituary, and her photo appearing on the first page of this album. She never married; perhaps, from a broken heart from Frank's rejection. You can come to your own conclusion.

The album is also sprinkled with photos of family members and himself. He appears to be a bit narcissistic with this album and another with photos of himself every year and in several poses and even had a poster-sized drawing made of himself in Chicago from the 1887 tintype in this album. Still, he cared a lot about his family, their history and did much to be proud of in his life. We owe a great debt of gratitude to him for preserving and documenting family archives, including this album among many.

Deaths of the Day

Martha Jane Aiken.

Another pioneer Lawrence County citizen was taken Monday afternoon, March 1, when Miss Martha Jane Aiken of 317 East street died in her home at 1 o'clock. Death came suddenly, following an attack on Sunday. Miss Aiken was a veteran of the educational system, having been a teacher for over fifty years prior to her retirement in 1936.

She was a Godly woman, who practiced her Christian faith in her daily life. She had many friends for she was a friend to many. Hers was a quiet life but a rich one.

Miss Aiken was born in Portersville, Butler County, the daughter of Alexander H. and Jane Kennedy Aiken. In 1874, with her parents she came to Mount Jackson in this county where she spent her early girlhood. In 1891 she came to New Castle. She was a graduate of the Edinboro State Normal school and in 1884 took up the profession of a school teacher. For a short time she taught in the schools of Parkers' Landing and Sewickley and then came to New Castle.

For many years Miss Aiken was a prominent teacher in the New Castle schools and among her former students are listed many successful men and women of this and other cities. In 1936 she retired after more than half a century service in the cause of education.

She was the sister of the late Attorney Robert K. Aiken. Three sisters, preceded her in death, Mary, Cassandra and Annie. She is survived by a brother, Albert A. Aiken of Detroit, Mich., a niece, Mrs. Dean M. Staley and two grand nephews, John and Dean M. Staley, Jr., of New Castle, a niece, Miss Frances D. Aiken of New York City, a cousin, Mrs. Catherine Kennedy Dickson of Upper Darby, Pa., and the children of Mrs. Dickson, Jane, Robert and Ann.

Miss Aiken was a member of long standing of the Highland United Presbyterian church, the Mary Balph Bible class and the Women's Missionary society of the same church. She was also a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Reading Circle.

Funeral services will be held from her late home at 317 East street, Wednesday, March 3, at 3 o'clock with Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.
